Nationality: Ethiopian

Nationality: British/English

Brief Description:

Sam, who's real name was Masumai, was an Ethiopian Prophet and Philosopher, who new Derek when he was a boy in a previous incarnation in Ethiopia. Derek was looked after by Masumai, after his family were all killed during a tribal upheaval and his village was destroyed. Derek was killed by some villagers for stealing bread at the age of thirteen, not for himself but for Masumai, who was unwell and aware of what he was doing at the time.

Masumai promised him that he would repay the debt of his life by looking after him in a future incarnation. He took the name of Sam to match the times of Derek's new incarnation.
